

Theory of Causation:

Research

We need to know more about....

- our PoP and how it might be addressed in other places
- research based strategies related to our PoP
- our specific student population and what might work best with students like ours

More Data

We need to gather more data sources or dig deeper into the ones we have. We might....

- create a tool to gather more detailed data
- triangulate the results we have with other data sources
- involve other stakeholders (principal, IC) to help us gather the data we need

Implementation

The data has led us to a strategy and we're ready to implement. We need to decide....

- how the implementation might look for each member of our CoP
- what data we might gather to examine the success of our strategy
- who will be responsible for gathering the data

My hunch about where our CoP might choose to go is:
